

Dinner Parties, Cocktail Parties, and Receptions

If you really want to entertain people in a memorable way, entertain them with live music. It feels so sophisticated to go to a party in a private home and hear someone at the piano, or a jazz trio playing in the corner. At a gathering in a restaurant, live music creates instant warmth and sparkle as each new guest arrives.

Whether it's a special occasion or you just want to take your next cocktail party to a new level, let me help you create the mood you want.

Imagine an elegant evening with classical music playing in the background as your guests mingle in their after-six attire. Or a sophisticated soire with your guests humming along to lively mix of jazzy standards. Picture your guests gathering around the piano, making requests and singing along.

They're not going to stop talking about your wonderful party!

Call or email me and we can look at my song list together!
